I have purchased and used every version of Microsoft Windows. I currently own and use Microsoft Office and several other lesser Microsoft programs. I have never felt that I was charged too much for any of these products.

To the contrary, I feel I'm being charged far too much by the government's continued prosecution of the Microsoft Anti-Trust case. I never felt there was a valid case to begin with, but be that as it may, I now feel you have reached the a point of diminishing returns.

Please accept the current settlement and stop waisting my tax money.
